In your ORCID record, “add”

The screenshot shows the 'Works' section of an ORCID record. At the top, there is a green header with 'Works (33)' and buttons for 'Add' and 'Sort'. Below this, there is a toolbar with a 'Select all (33)' checkbox, 'Items currently selected (0)', an 'Actions' dropdown, and a 'Manage similar works' button. A red box highlights the 'Add' button, which has opened a dropdown menu with the following options: 'Search & link', 'Add DOI', 'Add PubMed ID', 'Add BibTeX', and 'Add manually'. Below the toolbar, there are two work entries. The first entry is 'Distinguishing yourself as a researcher 打造自己成為研究人員' by AsiaEdit, dated 2022-02-14, with the source 'Brian Minihan'. The second entry is 'Connecting Your Researchers to ORCID: A New Affiliation Manager Tool for Institutions from ORCID' by the Coalition for Networked Information. The bottom of the screenshot shows a 'Show more' button.

Q&A

Question

What would it take for an ORCID integration with Github?

Answer

At the moment, Github does not use the ORCID API. We'd love for Github to use the ORCID public or member API though!

Question

Can ORCID link variant names of faculty departments. Example: Department of..., ...department?

Answer

All names of organizations in ORCID originate from persistent organization identifiers, such as ROR. This helps standardize affiliations, but staff of those organizations have the ability to request changes/updates directly with organization identifiers such as ROR, Ringgold.

Question

What are the ORCID skeptics in the humanities saying that are obstacles to adoption?

Answer

We're not exactly sure! That's part of why we held this specifically themed event. If you'd like to voice a way you'd like ORCID to work that currently isn't there please let us know at <https://info.orcid.org/give-feedback/>

Q&A

Question

In what ways can ORCID make direct improvements to the ORCID UI and Registry to enhance Humanities (and Arts!) representation in ORCID. I understand that external integrations need to come from outside of ORCID, but what about, say, improving the Research Output types (i.e., so Arts are not exclusively represented by "Other - Artistic performance")

Answer

ORCID work types are based on the CASRAI output standard. Work type changes will typically happen when new API versions are released. The current API version is 3.0. Information on submitting suggestions and enhancements are here. And your Engagement Lead can add feedback for future changes. You can track this on our public community feedback board.

Question

How is ORCID "backed up" (heaven forbid something were to happen like a total hack, destruction of servers, etc.)? How is ORCID prepared for preservation into the future?

Answer

Data stored and processed by ORCID is maintained by Rackspace in the United States and backed up by AWS in the Republic of Ireland. See the data recovery section of this page for more details about contingency.
